

Valued Community Member,

Johnson Health Center will celebrate National Health Center Week in August with our Ninth Annual Back to School Care Fair. Recognizing and addressing the ever-increasing financial burden of school supplies for our local families, the event provides an opportunity to give away free backpacks of school supplies while supplies last. Additionally, community partners offering local services, return to school information, and important resources to families and children will be present to share and discuss in more detail the variety of services offered.

While we would like every child in attendance to receive a backpack of school supplies, the need is overwhelming. The event has grown steadily over the past eight years; last year over 500 children walked away with a back pack full of school supplies. To date we have given out over 4,000 book bags! We will have 500 back packs to give away on a first-come, first-served basis.

Sponsorship money is used to purchase the backpacks and school supplies for the giveaway. We estimate $10 per student. All monetary support will go directly to the cost of these supplies.

This year's event will be held on Saturday, August 5th from 2pm to 4pm. We would love for you to join us!

Please contact Taylor Cooke, Associate Director of Patient Engagement & Outreach, at (434) 929-1400 ext. 1939 with additional questions or to notify us of your gift.

Thank you for your support.
